

Sewing Services

An expert bespoke sewing service is available where the manufacture of products, to customers' individual requirements, is provided.

Over 25 years of sewing and manufacturing experience combine to guarantee the high quality and efficiency of this excellent specialist service.

Raw materials are usually provided on a free-issue basis by the customer. Alternatively, if it is a material that we already hold in our standard stock, this can be provided and incorporated into the costings accordingly.

- Complete flexibility and attention to customers' individual requirements
- Quality assured and supported by over 25 years of experience
- Excellent sewing and manufacturing service available
- Wide range of industrial products already produced
- Professional and efficient service
- Manufactured in the United Kingdom
