

Your Creative Partner in a Competitive World

UK Fire Blanket Manufacturers

IC International Limited is an independent, well-established, professional company which has built up an undeniably excellent reputation over many years of successful manufacturing of fire blankets and associated products in the United Kingdom.

The company is extremely proud of its high quality products and prestigious customer service record.

IC International strive to provide a reliable, efficient, intelligent and competitive service to all its worldwide customers, no matter how far or near, no matter how small or large.

Its highly respected brand BRIDELA™ is known and coveted around the globe and its comprehensive range of top quality BRIDELA™ products has been manufactured and supplied for over 30 years.

Many BRIDELA™ products have been independently tested and comply with a variety of British and European Standards, so absolute conformance is guaranteed.

IC International are independently audited and certified to the prestigious international quality management system ISO 9001.

IC International believes that the customer is the most important person in its entire organisation and its personnel are totally committed to providing the best service possible. Great pride and care is taken in everything that it does and ideas for improvement are always immediately welcomed.

In today's competitive world,
Trust IC International to give you complete value